

Du Pont Empire Charged With Being Monopoly

CHICAGO (P)—The six-billion-dollar Du Pont industrial empire goes on trial in Federal Court today on government charges that the huge firm is monopolistic.

The government plans to introduce 1,203 exhibits and more than 25 depositions during the trial, which is expected to last at least four months. Judge Walter J. Labuy will hear the case without a jury.

Special Asst. Atty. Gen. Willis L. Hotchkiss, head of the Chicago Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice, will present the government's opening statement today.

Started In 1949
Attorneys for the defendants will then present their statements, which are expected to last through Wednesday. More than 25 attorneys are to represent the defendants.

The suit was first brought in 1949 charging that E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company of Wilmington, Del., General Motors Corp., and the U. S. Rubber Company violated the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The government contended the firms violated the act by restraining trade through secret rebates and by driving several fields of manufacturing among themselves to eliminate competition.

The charges have been denied. Three Du Pont holding companies and 117 individual members of the Du Pont family, including 59 minors, are also defendants.

In Control Of GM
The holding companies, which the government contends the Du Pont family tightly controls, are Christiana Securities Company, Delaware Realty and Investment Corp. and Wilmington Trust Company.

The government charges that the holding companies control the Du Pont company, which in turn controls General Motors and has a major block of stock in U. S. Rubber.

Hotchkiss said the government will seek a court order directing the Du Pont company to sell its General Motors stock. He said he does not plan to ask the defendants to dispose of their U. S. Rubber stock, which he said they own individually.

Taft Lays Out Top Legislation

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (P)—Taft-R-Ohio called on President-elect Eisenhower today to fix the timetable for legislative action in the new Congress.

At the same time, Taft told a news conference he doesn't believe it will be necessary for Eisenhower to intervene in the choice by Senate Republicans of their new leaders.

Taft predicted the Republicans will fill major posts "without any battle." He declined to say whether he wants to be chairman of the GOP policy committee or floor leader in the new organization.

Taft listed the following as the most pressing:

1. The budget, including possible reorganization of the Budget Bureau and establishment of a congressional budget commission.
2. Taxation—Taft said the decision on this could await budget action.
3. The question of whether the government reorganization act, which expires in April, should be renewed.
4. Possible extension of price, wage and rent controls, as well as allocations powers, which expire in the period between April 30 and June 30.

Boss Racketeer In Tight Spot

NEW YORK (P) State crime probes watch their main underworld target, Thomas (Three-Finger Brown) Luchese, confront two separate courts today in a tightening legal encirclement.

Luchese, reputed successor to imprisoned Frank Costello as czar of the rackets, faces the initial action of a possible U. S. move to deport him in Brooklyn Federal Court.

His own motion to avoid testifying before the New York State Crime Commission comes up in Manhattan State Supreme Court.

With the spotlight, temporarily at least, on the Luchese court cases, the commission planned to go ahead with its inquiry into political—underworld relationships. The group was expected to look into judicial patronage today.

Carmine G. DeSapio, chief of Tammany Hall (the Manhattan Democratic organization), created a sensation at yesterday's hearing when he clashed with the commission and denounced phases of its inquiry.

DeSapio, 43, who admitted he won a draft deferment as an essential worker during World War II when he didn't have a regular job, said he did not want to be "smeared or lynched by implication."

Danes Announce Greenland Job

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (P)—The Danish government guardedly announced today that Western defense facilities in strategic Greenland are being expanded.

The announcement gave no details of what the expansion would mean, but reliable government and engineering sources said last night Denmark and the U. S. had agreed on construction of at least four huge new U. S. air bases on the big island across the North Pole from Soviet Russia's Arctic doorstep.

This report brought statements from a U. S. State Department spokesman, Danish Foreign Minister Ole Bjorn Kraft and Finn Nielsen, acting chief of Denmark's Greenland department, that they knew nothing about any such agreement.

Today's statement from the Greenland department said: "As a result of a mutual Danish-American desire to employ the ability and experience of Danish engineers in the expansion of the defense zones in Greenland, a contract has been concluded with the firm, Danish Arctic Contractor, which is a combine of six individual firms."

The statement added that a minor part of the work to be done—a $1,200,000 dollar construction job at one of the three existing U. S. bases—has already begun and will be completed next spring.

Flying Boxcar Disasters Kill 91 Servicemen

BILLINGS, Mont. (P)—The fourth crash in 11 days of an Air Force C119 Flying Boxcar claimed eight lives Monday when one of the huge transports crashed and burned in a muddy field 12 miles east of this South Central Montana city.

The eight deaths raised to 91 the number of servicemen killed in Boxcar crashes since Nov. 7. Four of the dead in the Montana crash burned to death when the two-engine craft plowed into the ground while attempting to make an emergency landing. Four died of injuries.

Motor Shakes Loose
Eight others, including the pilot and co-pilot, were rushed to two Billings hospitals. Attendants said two were in critical condition.

The Air Force withheld identification of the dead.

Bound from Edmonton, Alta., Canada, to Denver, the plane crashed in cloudy weather but visibility was good.

Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators said propeller trouble apparently caused one motor of the transport to shake loose.

The Air Force in Washington said it has no intention of grounding the C119s "unless a pattern of mechanical failure is established by accident investigations."

Unsuitable In Arctic
A reserve officer said reports the transports are "not suitable" for arctic operations have been on file with the Air Force since last April.

An Air Force spokesman said no report on the C119s being unsuitable for arctic operations had been released.

A C119 smashed into an Alaskan peak Nov. 7, killing 19 men. Another vanished with 20 aboard in Alaska Saturday, the same day a Flying Boxcar crashed in Korea, killing all 44 aboard.

Husband Entitled To One Philander, London Lawyer Says

LONDON (P)—Every husband is entitled to philander once in his life, a spokesman male for the British Law Society said last night in advising wives it is better to forgive once than try to forget forever.

"I think for a woman to take up the stupid position of insisting upon absolute fidelity from her husband is wrong," London lawyer E. C. Harvey told the Royal Commission of Marriage and Divorce, which is hearing suggestions for changes in divorce laws.

"It might be suggested very strongly to a wife to overlook it where a husband had failed on one occasion with one particular woman and had freely confessed it—rather than rush into divorce. After all, she will be a long time divorced," he said.

Decision Expected Today On Michigan Vote Investigation

WASHINGTON (P)—The Senate elections subcommittee, according to its chairman, may decide today whether to send investigators into Michigan to look into charges of irregularities in the senatorial race there.

Chairman Hennings (D-Mon) met with the subcommittee's only Republican member, Senator Hendrickson (R-NJ), here yesterday to go over charges made by Neil Staebler, Michigan Democratic chairman. Paul J. Cotter, subcommittee counsel, met with them.

Potter 45,765 Ahead
Afterward Hennings said he might announce today whether investigators would be sent to look into numerous irregularities charged by Staebler in the race between Sen. Blair Moody (D-Mich.) and Rep. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.).

Potter, on the face of a tabulation of the official canvass, apparently defeated Moody by the top-heavy margin of 45,765 votes.

Cotter said that after receiving Staebler's complaint of numerous irregularities and errors his first reaction was to order investigators

Washington Whips Up Big Welcome For Ike

By ED CREAM
WASHINGTON (P)—The nation's capital whipped up a gigantic welcome today for the next president of the United States.

And the television cameras of all four major networks were set to bring the festivities to the rest of the country beginning at 1 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Elaborate plans that won the blessing of the outgoing Truman administration called for a public turnout rivaling the great demonstration which greeted Dwight D. Eisenhower on his return from World War II triumphs in 1945.

Bunting Blossoms Out
President Truman, although he campaigned tooth and nail to keep Eisenhower out of the White House, lent a helping hand to today's triumphal procession.

He directed that all of the 250,000 federal workers who can be spared from their duties be released from their jobs long enough to join in the cheering.

More than that, painters hastily slapped a layer of gleaming white paint on the outside of the main entrance to the White House executive offices in which today's Truman-Eisenhower talks were to take place.

Brilliant red, white and blue bunting blossomed forth along the route of the Eisenhower motorcade from the Military Air Transport Service Terminal, in nearby Virginia, across Memorial Bridge spanning the Potomac, to

Reds Reel Back On Sniper Ridge

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
SEOUL (P)—South Korean infantrymen in savage hand to hand fighting today blasted Chinese Communists off a vital knob on blood soaked Sniper Ridge, lost to 175 screaming Reds a few hours earlier.

Even as the battered Chinese reeled back from Rocky Point, a new Red buildup was spotted at the northern end of Sniper. Allied war planes, tanks and artillery hammered the Communists with high explosives and searing napalm.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said F86 Sabre jets shot down one communist MIG15 and damaged another today. The series of dog-fights just south of the Yalu River reduced the second American ace in two days.

Capt. Leonard Lilley of Manchester, N. H., became the 22nd U. S. ace of the Korean War when he shot down his fifth MIG.

The Air Force also confirmed a sixth MIG kill yesterday. This boosted the two-day toll of Red warplanes to seven destroyed, one probably destroyed and two damaged.

Ten U. S. B29 Superforts last night pushed the Korean air war right to the doorstep of Manchuria. The B29s smashed Chosin, a Red mining and processing center within sight of the Yalu River and set off a chain of huge fires and explosions. Other Superforts blasted a Communist ammunition dump near Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

Sailor To Keep Orphan Family Of 7 Together

SEATTLE (P)—A young Navy recruit vowed today he'd see that his newly orphaned seven brothers and sisters stayed together.

The 17-year-old sailor, Robert Byron, returned home yesterday on special leave from his Navy station at San Diego, Calif. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Halldor A. Byron, were struck and killed by an automobile early Sunday.

Before his arrival, a sister, Beverly, 16, was the nominal head of the family, which includes five boys and three girls.

Robert, the eldest son, said he planned to make the Navy a career "to be sure of being able to help out financially."

Ready For Rush
LANSING (P)—The state Department of Agriculture reported today it has prepared for the Christmas tree rush by establishing inspection stations along highways leading from the north counties.

Inspectors will check trees and boughs being transported to determine whether they are accompanied by a bill of sale, required by state law.

Grand Jury Sifts Lansing Football Pool Conspiracy

LANSING (P)—A one-man grand jury investigation was under way here today into reports of a football pool gambling conspiracy.

The investigation was started by Ingham County Circuit Judge Charles H. Hayden on petition of prosecutor Paul C. Younger following the arrest of six men Friday and Saturday.

Five were accused of gaming law conspiracy and the sixth with possession of football pool policy tickets.

Younger estimated that "several thousand dollars" weekly had been realized by operators of the pool in the Lansing area.

Quick Ruling Assured On Miner Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (P)—Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam has promised a quick ruling on the disputed pay raise for coal miners. And there was a hint the miners might not strike if the ruling went against them.

The industry negotiated a $1.90 a day pay raise with union leader John L. Lewis but the Wage Stabilization Board approved only part of it.

The WSB decided only $1.50 per day was payable and barred the remaining 40 cents as inflationary. Lewis and the industry have asked Putnam to reverse the WSB and approve the full amount.

Putnam heard arguments from both Lewis and Harry M. Moses, industry spokesman, at a special hearing Monday.

Prison Drinkers Some Improved

JACKSON (P)—Encouraging improvement was reported today in the condition of four Southern Michigan Prison inmates who were feared near death from drinking a potion which may have contained wood alcohol.

Two other prisoners died yesterday of the drink.

The four were removed, from the "critical list" at the prison hospital, but their condition was considered "still serious."

Prison doctors said it would be several days, before the men would be out of danger.

Precautions were continued at the prison. The entire prison population of 6,000 was checked to determine if there were any other similar cases. Two additional men were hospitalized after they complained of stomach conditions.

Korean Armistice Proposal Gets Cool Reception In U. N.

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—United Nations delegates gave a cool but studious reception today to the long-awaited Indian compromise proposal for settling the Korean prisoner of war deadlock.

Although objections were raised on several points of the draft resolution India handed the U. N. General Assembly Monday, neither Communist nor non-Communist representatives rejected the proposal outright. Neither side, however, was enthusiastic about it.

Diplomats Mark Time
The world diplomats marked time in the main Korean debate in the Assembly's Political Committee so they could study the resolution further. Sessions originally scheduled for today were postponed for lack of speakers.

Decisions still were being made behind the scenes, and it was expected other compromise proposals would be introduced after the Korean debate is resumed Wednesday.

The delegates also awaited the outcome of the major policy talks in Washington today between President Truman and President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson went to Washington for the conference and hoped to get

No Strings Tied To Republican President-Elect

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (P)—Two men sat down in the White House today sitting in with present cabinet world's most powerful office to the other with the least friction.

Dwight D. Eisenhower — expected to be greeted by a cheering million on his first visit as President-elect to this festooned capital—seemingly is determined not to take any pre-inaugural hand in vital government decisions.

Hoping For Unity
Harry S. Truman, who proposed the unusual conference, was reported hoping, nevertheless, that his Republican successor would join in a statement of unity and of support for the American position in the United Nations on the explosive Korean issue.

But a spokesman for Eisenhower told reporters that unless the general changes his attitude there may be no statement at all — or at best a brief one.

He added that Eisenhower welcomes the opportunity for a briefing by Truman but wants no strings tied to him. There were signs that the coolness which developed between the two men as a result of their exchange of bitter charges in the presidential campaign had not thawed materially.

Charting His Course
This spokesman said the President-elect feels that, unless there is some unexpected development of world-shaking proportions, he should refrain from even suggesting to the Truman administration any course of action on domestic and foreign affairs.

The President-elect will be ready to act quickly, this source said, when he takes office Jan. 20.

Auditor Lines Up State Economies

LANSING (P)—Auditor General John B. Martin Jr., today recommended abolishing the bonds provided for wholesale gasoline dealers to guarantee payment of the state gas tax.

The bonds, purchased by the state for the dealers, cost about $30,000 a year.

Martin said no claims have been filed on the bonds for the past six years. If the bonds must be continued, Martin said, the state should buy them direct from bond houses at a savings of $15,000 a year.

Martin also proposed discontinuing surety bonds required of scores of state employees who handle cash. These cost the state $48,000 a year, Martin said, but a claim is rarely filed on the bonds.

Other recommendations in Martin's annual report:

- Abolition of food allowances, free household and cleaning supplies and free laundry service for state institutional employees.
- Annual audits of township and school district books by independent public accountants.

Wayward Wife Freed After Romantic Trip With Neighbor Boy, 17

LOS ANGELES (P)—Mrs. Virginia LeTourneau, 28, who left her family for a six-week romantic junket with a 17-year-old neighbor boy, has been freed from jail and warned to be "a very dutiful and obedient wife."

Superior Judge William Neely so counseled her yesterday on releasing her halfway through a four-month jail sentence. She had pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of Jimmy Sherwin, now in the Air Force.

"I hate to put a wife under the domination of her husband," said the judge. "But you aren't able to make sound decisions as to what is the best conduct. . . . You must be a very dutiful and obedient wife."

Won't Use Force
The Indians suggested two Communist and two non-Communist nations — Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Switzerland. But they added if this wasn't acceptable, four other states not participating in the Korean hostilities—excluding permanent members of the Security Council—could serve. The commission would choose a neutral umpire to vote in case of a 2-2 deadlock on decisions.

The resolution, introduced by India's V. K. Krishna Menon after days of backstage talks with Americans, Russians and various parties in between, declares force will not be used either to prevent or effect the repatriation of prisoners.

The U. S. stands firmly against forcible return of prisoners who oppose going back to their Communist-ruled homelands. The Communists have demanded that all prisoners be handed over whether they want to return or not.

Action Started In OPS To Cut Price Of Meat

By WILLIAM O. VARN
WASHINGTON (P)—Price Chief Tighe Woods plans to reduce the price of meat to consumers if it's legally possible.

Woods yesterday ordered his Office of Price Stabilization staff to have ready by Monday an order rolling back retail meat prices—or let him know why it can't be done.

He said a pulse-feeling swing he made through the country convinced him consumers are more concerned about food prices than any others, and that meat is first on that list.

Producers Get Less
Woods said cattlemen and farmers complain that the prices they receive for live cattle have gone down but that consumers are paying as much for beef now as they were when ceilings were set more than a year ago.

The price chief said if this is so he wants to know the reason why, and where the difference in price exists.

The Western States Meat Packers Association, a trade group, took sharp issue with what they said was a suggestion that meat retailers and packers are getting excessive profits.

Distortion Claimed
E. F. Forbes, the group's president, yesterday made public a letter he sent congressmen recently.

Hunting Deaths Increased To 8

By The Associated Press
Michigan's 1952 big game hunting season headed into its fourth day, Tuesday, with all reports indicating a record number of hunters afield, early success against the state deer herd, and a high rate of accidental deaths by gunshot, heart attack, and drowning.

In the first three days of the 16-day season, at least eight hunters have been killed by gunshot. Six have died following heart attacks, and two have drowned.

Last year's hunting fatality count was 13.

Conservation Department men and State police expect the last three days of the 1952 season to be the worst in accidents. The already large deer hunter army will be even bigger by that time, when northern counties of the lower peninsula are to be opened to all deer. Some 400,000 are expected to hit the northern area of the lower peninsula for the last three days.

Herman Goerr, 70, of Pontiac, was the latest fatality reported Monday.

The elderly Pontiac hunter was shot and killed Monday in northern Menominee county conservation Department agents said Goerr was shot in the back. Agents were attempting to identify his killer, but had meager evidence on which to proceed.

Live Monkey Roams Woods At Bellaire

BELLAIRE (P)—Police and conservation officers are involved in a bit of monkey-business in the woods hereabouts. While other hunters are stalking deer, they are looking for a real live monkey.

Antrim County Sheriff Howard E. Tanner was understandably skeptical when reports filtered in that a monkey was roaming the woods, but Monday he found its owner.

Clifford Torrey of Chestonia township said the monkey had been given to him two months ago but that it had broken out of its cage last week.

Several attempts by hunters to capture the animal have failed.

National Book Week Observed

Attractive displays of new books received in the school library, colorful art posters telling how "Reading Is Fun" and a coffee hour this afternoon are keynoting observance of National Book Week at Escanaba Senior High School.

Throughout the day, groups of students took 12 minutes off from study hour periods today to visit the library, where numerous displays of books awaited them. National Book Week extends from Nov. 16 to 22.

Books are displayed according to subject, such as government, history, sea stories, humor and fiction. In addition there are special displays of books on vocations, communications and American history.

Teachers are Guests

Members of the school library club, under chairmanship of Maxine Fredrickson, arranged the displays, and members of the school art classes made the posters.

The best poster made for the observance, as judged by Miss Charlene Loebel, school art consultant, was that of Rosemary Hossele. The winning poster shows a small boy and girl reading. Other posters ranking in the top six also are on display.

Teachers in the Senior High School and in Catherine Bonifas Technical School were invited to a coffee hour from 4 to 5 this afternoon in the library. Members of the library club were to serve as hostesses.

Maxine Koch was chairman of the library club committee in charge of invitations. Marjorie Walk was chairman of the club committee for the coffee hour refreshments. Joan LaCombe was chairman for the committee for publicity, and Mary Nelson is chairman of the clean-up committee.

May Be Annual Event

During visits to the library today, students were given special book markers, on which the EHS 1952-53 basketball schedule was imprinted. The markers were made by printing classes at the technical school under direction of Denis Foltman.

Posters for the book week observance, which helps to make students aware of new books in the library, were made by art classes under direction of Miss Peggy Kranstover.

Miss Viola Salo, EHS home economics instructor, assisted with arrangements for the coffee hour today. A similar coffee hour in the school library also was held last year, and plans call for making the affair an annual event.

903 Parcels Of Land Offered

Approximately 900 parcels of land were listed today by County Treasurer Ann S. Villeneuve as delinquent tax lands that will be offered to the public in the annual May sale if the owners continue to default the tax payment.

The descriptions, mailed today to the state auditor general, will be advertised for six weeks beginning Jan. 8 and will be redeemable by the present owners up to the time of the May sale. If the owners fail to redeem them, the lands will be placed on public sale for payment of the taxes due on them.

Delinquent 1950 Taxes

All the parcels listed are delinquent the 1950 taxes and, in some cases, the 1949 tax payment also. The total of 903 descriptions, which constitute the 1953 May sale, is slightly higher than the 1952 listing when 861 parcels were offered for the defaulted taxes, according to Mrs. Villeneuve.

In statutory procedure the descriptions are sent to the auditor general and returned here in bound form with the auditor's petition that they be placed on sale. Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson then signs the petition on the opening day of the February term of Delta county Circuit Court. Prior to that date, the land descriptions must be advertised in a county publication for six weeks.

107 Parcels In Escanaba

The cities of Gladstone and Escanaba were shown to have the greatest number of tax delinquent lands, with 108 and 107 respectively. The number of parcels in the townships follow:
Baldwin, 46; Bark River, 11; Bay de Noc, 35; Brampton, 45; Cornell, 76; Ensign, 13; Escanaba, 62; Fairbanks, 26;
Ford River, 89; Garden, 78; Maple Ridge, 76; Masonville, 61; Nahma, 15; and Wells, 55.

Dearborn Hunter, 70, Is Accident Victim

A 70-year-old Dearborn hunter, Herman Goers, was the victim yesterday of a hunter's rifle which sent a fatal shell in the man's chest while hunting about 10 miles north of Hermansville.

An investigation of the incident was being conducted today by Menominee county conservation department, the sheriff's office and State Police officials.

The fatality occurred at about 3 p. m., Monday in the Vega area beyond the town of Hermansville.

Before he was shot, the victim was in company of a brother, William Goers, with whom he had come from Dearborn to spend the hunting season here.

The brother told officials today that while hunting in back of their camp Monday afternoon, the two men separated and went into the woods. A short time later, William Goers stated, he heard a shot. He called to his brother, he reported and getting no answer went in search of him.

He told police that he found him dead. The shell pierced the victim's chest near the shoulder.

Conservation officials were quoted this morning as reporting that there were not a great many hunters in the Vega area yesterday. Gerald Welling of the Michigan Department of Conservation was assisting in the investigation.

Rotarians Hear Kare Birkelund

Kare Birkelund, language specialist in the high school of Rjukan, Norway, now in this country on a Fulbright scholarship to study methods of teaching English, yesterday told the Escanaba Rotary Club that surmounting the barrier of language will materially aid in bringing world understanding and peace.

One of two groups of foreign language teachers now studying and observing in the schools of the United States, Birkelund came here from Manistique and was introduced by Carl Olson, Manistique High School principal.

Birkelund and the teachers from other countries are sponsored in their studies in this country by the U. S. Office of Education, the State Department, and the governments of their own country. A total of ten groups of teachers, two of the groups of 25 each teachers of languages, are now in the United States.

Research In Languages

Olson met Birkelund last summer while on a visit to Sweden and invited Birkelund to be his guest in this country. Birkelund is studying at University of Michigan.

In Norwegian high schools three foreign languages—English, German and French—are required for all students, Birkelund said.

He had praise for the research in languages being conducted at University of Michigan, where he has studied for the past eight weeks. The University is departing from the traditional language teaching method and seeks to establish the similarities first and solve the differences secondly. The result is a great help in teaching languages, he said.

In addition to the training the foreign teachers are receiving, they are being helped by their visit to gain better understanding of Americans as well as their language, Birkelund said.

Of War and Peace

"I assure that is something we appreciate very much. We have been invited into many homes, given opportunity to meet the people and the families—and through this we obtain a broader understanding of what America really is," he said.

This understanding he continued, will be reflected in more cooperative attitudes as the teachers return to their home countries—and in the future it may have a lot to do with the question of war and peace in the world."

Birkelund also described his "home town" in Norway, its principal industry, and an exciting chapter of life there during the war when Germans occupied and operated a nitrate plant producing the "heavy water" used in early atomic energy experiments. The Norwegians foiled the Germans, however, by sabotaging the plant and sinking a ferry-boat carrying heavy water out of the country to Germany.

This action delayed for the period of the war the German experiments toward development of the atomic bomb.

Anton Jessen, officer in charge of Minneapolis Shoal lighthouse in Green Bay 12 miles south of Escanaba, has been transferred to Manistique where he is the new officer in charge of the light station there for the U. S. Coast Guard.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessen, who resided at 219 Ogden Ave., left today for their new home in Manistique.

At Manistique Jessen will succeed William Keller, who retired as officer in charge of the light station there on Oct. 1. There are four men at the station.

Pete Scott of Escanaba will be temporarily in charge of Minneapolis Shoal light until the close of navigation.

Jessen came to Escanaba as officer in charge of the Minneapolis Shoal light in March, 1942, from Wind Point station at Racine, where he was first assistant. He entered the U. S. Coast Guard lighthouse service in 1930 at Chicago Harbor station.

With Deer Hunters - - - Camp And Trail News

Escanaba's Red Jacket Jamboree program has a "pancake feed" and dance scheduled tonight at the K. of C. Club. Hot cakes serving starts at 6 p. m.

Hunters and those who are not hunting but want to join in the fun are invited to attend.

Thursday night there will be a "Hunter's Shindig" at Third Avenue North and Stephenson (at the Chicago & North Western station) where square dancing will be enjoyed. Steve Baltic will do the calling.

Despite the unfavorable weather—hunters are calling "lousy" and a few other names—the red jackets are out for a try at filling their licenses.

At the Red Jacket Jamboree Big Buck and Big Bear Derby registration station there were 36 bucks registered in the prize award competition. So far no bear have been brought in.

The largest buck weighed in to date is a 219-pounder brought down by Ed Billings of 511 S. 13th St. Escanaba merchants are donating the prizes that will go to the Buck and Bear Derby winners.

Add to the list of successful hunters on the opening day the name of Warren Stanchina, 1219 North 21st St., who bagged a five-pointer weighing 125 pounds while hunting Saturday afternoon near McFarland.

George Bathke, 1411 9th Ave. S., filled his license Sunday at 8 a. m. His buck, an 8-pointer, weighed 180 pounds. He was hunting in the Ford River area.

(Nahma Roundup)

Harold Hebert, a junior at the F. W. Good high school, Nahma, brought down a fine 8-point buck at 8:00 a. m., on the opening day.

Howard Olmsted filled his license on the opening day and was back home by 9 a. m., with an 8-point buck weighing 150 pounds. He was hunting in the Coallav Lake area.

Ivan Schafer was also among the first day successful hunters. He got his buck, a 7-pointer about 8:30 a. m.

Steve Novack of Detroit bagged an 8-pointer late Saturday afternoon.

Roland Bramer filled his license on Sunday morning when he killed a spike horn in the haybarn area.

Pat Phalen brought down an 8-point buck on Sunday while hunting north of Nahma Junction.

Ivan Sheedlo of Detroit was successful on Sunday morning when he bagged a 7-pointer weighing 180 pounds near the haybarn marsh.

William Chessnus and his son Jerry of Hart are staying at their cabin at Dick Sargents near Nahma Junction. Jerry filled his license when he killed a 4-pointer at 9 a. m., Saturday morning. Mr. Chessnus got a big 10-pointer Saturday afternoon about 4 p. m. Both deer were killed near the Soo Line tracks.

Dick Sargent got his buck, an 8-pointer, on Sunday morning at 8 a. m., right back of his property near Nahma Junction.

Bob Hay, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Hay, Lake Shore Drive, shot a 205 pound buck a nine-pointer, near the Whitefish River.

Hermansville hunters who have reported a kill for the first two days of the hunting season include James Doran, Edward Lohf, Frank Urlick, Bill Anderson, Joe Urlick, Henry Warbel, Peter Tomich, Ed Koehn, John Andrews, Lloyd Lacasse Jr., Gary Barribeau, Dennis Schultz, Loren Poquette, George Miller, Victor Bennett, Norman Neville Jr., Felix Cabianna, Milton Paduck of Detroit was the first of some 40 hunters at the Menominee Hotel to report a kill.

The Edgar and Arnold Krause families of Detroit were unsuccessful in getting a buck while hunting here, but they did not return without a hunting trophy. Tied to their car as they left today was a large snowshoe rabbit! The Detroiters visited and hunted here with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krause and son Bob, 1208 South 15th street. The group hunted on the Stenington peninsula.

Elmer LeClaire and son David of Flint are hunting from the E. P. LeClaire camp at Pale Lake, while visiting in Perkins with Mr. LeClaire's mother, Mrs. Clifford LeClaire, and other relatives.

Simon Lundberg, Hilding Norline, David Person and Thomas Anderson of Chicago are hunting north of Perkins.

Roy Michel and Clarence Bernister of St. Paul are spending two weeks hunting in the Schaffer area.

(Rock Roundup)

The red-coated hunters from "everywhere" are back again and in spite of poor hunting conditions many have already fulfilled their dreams of getting this season's buck. Hunters at the Thomas Linjala home in West Rock are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buckland and children, and Mrs. Charles Buckland of Emmett, Mich., Hugo Hoyer and Mort Humphrey of Detroit and Miriam Thornton, who got her buck on the opening day, and Darwin Lechi of Munising.

The Ludwig Hietinens of Ishpeming are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Linjala during their hunting trip here.

Out-of-town hunters at Herb Westlund's Red Top Camp are Alfred Sayan of Madison, Wis., Elmer Hennig and Bob Marbury of Chicago, and Carl Carlson of Skokie, Ill. Albert Sayen, Clifford Carlson, Charles Carlson and

RECORD RACK—Ed Billings, 511 S. 13th St. holds the lead in the Chamber of Commerce deer derby with this 219 pound buck that he shot near S. Nicholas. The deer has a tremendous rack of horns, 24 inches wide, with 14 points. (Daily Press Photo)

Herb Westlund are four who have already claimed their bucks at the Red Top Camp. Otto Turunen, who didn't waste any time in latching on to his buck, and Uno Toika of Waukegan, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Turunen. Other hunters in the Rock area are Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Larson and son Duane of Clawson, Mich., who are visiting with the Ernest Fosterlings, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lusardie of Milwaukee, Gus Worch of Chicago, Bill Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Karrinen of Waukegan.

Some hunter who may be frantically searching for his deer license may want to know that he can get his license by calling Rock 2578.

Clarence Lusardie of Rock recently purchased a bright red shirt at a local store. When he arrived home he found a deer license in the shirt pocket. License number is AB 7087.

Hunting at the James Ray camp at Hendricks are James Ray, Bert Ray, Everett Hedberg of Chicago; and Carl Green, Lou Villemure, Ralph Olson and Chuck Olson of Escanaba. Successful hunters to date are Lou Villemure and Chuck Olson.

Fred Larson of Detroit had his buck 24 hours after he came to Delta County to hunt, his brother-in-law, Elmer Bornman, 500 First avenue south, reports. Larson, who hunted here for the first time, downed a 7-point, 190-pound buck on the Stenington peninsula Monday, a half-hour after he went into the woods.

Walter Wilson, 1215 N. 16th St., got his buck on the first morn-shot early Saturday morning.

John Fred Johnson, 323 North 11th street, shot an 8-point buck weighing 170 pounds about 4 p. m., Saturday, while hunting near Watson.

Four brothers are holding their annual hunting reunion at the Uno Anderson camp at Mashek. In addition to Uno, whose home is in Ishpeming, the hunting party includes Arvid Anderson of Escanaba, Elmer Anderson of Cornell and Sergeant B. R. Anderson of Ft. Hood, Tex.

Among successful first day hunters was Clifford Larson of Wells, who bagged a 4-point, 140-pound buck at Camp 26, North of Nahma. He shot the animal about 9 a. m.

Weekend hunting was successful for John LeFleur of Iron Mountain, with his claiming of a spike horn Sunday morning at the camp of Joe LaFleur and Lawrence Mayrand of Schafer. The LaFleur-Mayrand camp, Lucky Seven, located near Hardwood, is also the hunting headquarters of, besides the owners, Joe Jacobs of Appleton, Wis.

Bob Flynn of Detroit is hunting in the Trenary area. He was accompanied by Mrs. Flynn and the children, who will visit with relatives in Trenary while in Upper Michigan.

Wayne Jussila of Lansing has arrived to hunt in the Trenary area and to visit with his mother, Mrs. El Jussila, in Trenary.

Bert Harris of Russel, Ky., is hunting in the North Delta area, and also is visiting in Trenary with his brother, George, and family.

Bob Oberstar of Milwaukee, who is hunting in the Trenary area, plans to return Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Al Wiegand of Mt. Clemens are staying at a cabin on Trout Lake, and are hunting in that area.

The Navajos of Arizona and New Mexico, now more than 50,000 strong, comprise the largest of the Indian tribes in the U. S. today.

Now the car of the year — the deal of the year!

And we're ready to back up that headline with appetizing facts and generous figures. For example, "the car of the year" is more than a glib phrase, it's a title that Mercury has earned by doing—by making news.

Mercury is the one car in its class that came up with something really new for 1952—styling so new it left other cars far behind. And, if that weren't enough, Mercury (with optional overdrive) again proved that pound for pound it could beat all comers for economy in the Mobilgas Economy Run.

But, we know, you're equally interested in "how much" for your present car. We can give you some idea if you just pick up the phone and call us. But we can do even better if you give us a chance to appraise it firsthand—so we can allow for extras and care you've given it.

So drop around. Our deals are now the best of the year. That means tops in town.

Standard equipment, accessories, and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice. White side-wall tires and full-disc hubcaps at extra cost.

Rosenbergs Face Death Penalty As Court Rejects Review Appeal

THE traitors, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who passed American atomic secrets to the Russians, have been denied for the second time a hearing by the U. S. Supreme Court. Thus the way has been cleared for their execution in Sing Sing prison.

Only commutation of their sentence by the President of the United States can now save them from execution. There has been no indication that President Truman will intervene in the case and certainly no reason why he should.

The Rosenbergs are guilty of a crime of tremendous magnitude. No one will ever know how much blood has been spilled or how many persons have been killed because of the perfidy of the Rosenbergs.

It is conceivable that the Korean war itself is an off-shoot of the Rosenberg treason. The acquisition of atomic secrets by the Russians, stolen from the United States, undoubtedly stimulated Communist aggression and encouraged the Russians to wave an iron fist.

Russia developed an atomic bomb at least two years sooner than scientists anticipated because of the secrets obtained from the Rosenbergs.

Christmas Seals Fight Tuberculosis

EVEN a single candle will give a lot of light in a dark basement. And hundreds of candles burning together will glow stronger than the most powerful electric lamp.

This is one way to describe the secret of the success of the voluntary tuberculosis movement in this country. The philosophy of the Christmas Seal Sale holds that the individual purchase of two dollars, or three dollars, or whatever we can afford, is important.

There is more than money at stake. When the crusade against tuberculosis was launched 45 years ago, founders seized upon the seal sale as a way to arouse interest in wiping out the disease. The Christmas Seal Sale tells us that we can not relax personal and community measures to protect ourselves from this disease, measures like the annual chest X-ray.

These things are often called education. They are essential to waging war on tuberculosis. A chest X-ray machine is of little value if we fail to heed the call to go to the X-ray unit; a sanatorium cannot cure a patient if he is not persuaded that he should go to the sanatorium to get well.

NOVEMBER TIMELINE (Christian Science Monitor)

November has a bad name and a good character. It wipes the slate clean. It clangs the door shut on October's brief audacities. Umber and other may persist, the tattered bronze of oak leaves, the plum-colored haze of level distances; but the basic color is gray. This is a month for the strong, the honest, the soberly observant; a month of still, chill days, of iron waiting; a month whose motionless mists cannot hide the spare, clean lines of the year's economy.

This month holds an election, stripping away the gaudy rhetoric of the preceding campaign days. It remembers an armistice, and girds itself for the hard task of winning a still reluctant peace. It celebrates Thanksgiving, not at the moment of harvest triumph but as the gray days narrow toward bleak and difficult winter. This is a month for realists with ideals. It makes no false promises, smiles no false smiles—and it is undismayed.

THOSE AMENDMENT PROPOSALS (Ironwood Globe)

The people of Gogebic county showed in Tuesday's election that they have no wish to place their political destinies in the hands of metropolitan legislators.

They left no doubt about this by the manner in which they slapped down Proposal No. 2 and approved of Proposal No. 3 for reappointment of the legislature. The people of Gogebic county don't want to take a chance on taxation without representation.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It's been 20 years almost to the day that another President-elect called on an outgoing President, as Dwight D. Eisenhower calls on Harry S. Truman today.

President Hoover was bitter then, just as President Truman is today. All sorts of charges had been hurled at his administration, just as charges have been hurled at Truman by the man he once proposed for President of the United States.

However, for the good of the country, as today, they sat down together.

With them sat grave-faced Raymond Moley, top Roosevelt brain trust who later quarrel with his boss and has been bitterly against the Democrats since; cherub-faced Ogden Mills, secretary of the treasury. Hoover talked in a monotone, at times plaintively. He reviewed the tobaggy slide of British finances, told of the dangerous economic state of the world. The President-elect listened, talked little.

Finally Mr. Hoover said: "Now, Governor Roosevelt, I wonder if I could speak to you alone."

The others withdrew, Hoover talked longer to the President-elect regarding Britain's desperate condition.

Coming out of the White House later, Governor Roosevelt told Moley: "We're not going back. I don't want to get mixed up in this."

Today, 20 years later, Eisenhower likewise declines to share responsibility for decisions until he assumes office. But the time between election and inauguration is shorter now, and at least two of his representatives are working with the outgoing administration.

IKE'S BUDGET ADVISER

It's a 100-to-1 bet that Joseph Dodge, the Eisenhower adviser on budget problems, will not become secretary of the treasury or budget director, as some observers have speculated.

For some of Ike's advisers aren't at all happy about the discovery that Dodge borrowed money from the RFC for his Detroit bank in 1933 and did not pay it back until this year. They feel that with the Republican party having talked loudly about "keeping out of the red," Eisenhower couldn't afford to appoint a man whose bank has been in the red to the government for 19 years.

Dodge has been president of the Detroit bank since 1933. On Dec. 31, 1933, the bank borrowed $4,000,000 from the RFC in order to keep from folding.

Repayments on the loan were scattered and irregular. By the beginning of this year, the bank still owed $2,000,000. But strangely this large sum was suddenly paid up in full on May 20, 1952. In order to pay it, the bank issued new preferred stock to private investors.

Mr. Dodge is still president of the bank, on loan to General Eisenhower.

NEW SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

Washington's lame-duck Sen. Harry Cain is so reluctant to leave the Senate that he is pulling strings to get the relatively unimportant job of sergeant-at-arms.

This has brought him into a backstage clash with New York's powerful Congressman Dan Reed, who is boosting his son, Bill, for the post. The junior Reed is now deputy sergeant-at-arms and is counting on his daddy to help him move up.

Congressman Reed will pack a lot of weight in the next Congress as boss of the house ways and means committee, which fixes the nation's taxes. But the Senate is known to be sympathetic to ex-members of its exclusive club; so senatorial courtesy will probably prevail and the ex-senator may get the job.

Senator Cain has whispered that he is anxious to take the step-down job for the sake of his wife, whom he almost divorced to marry a Senate secretary four years ago. Mrs. Cain prefers the Washington social whirl to the humdrum life of Tacoma, Wash.

Note—Senator Cain has told friends he can't figure out why he was defeated in a state that gave Eisenhower an easy majority. Chief reason was the drive and personality of his opponent, newly elected Senator "Scoop" Jackson. Another reason was Cain's close political liaison with Senator McCarthy. Whenever McCarthy needed anyone to speak for him on the Senate floor, Cain was always the first to do so.

Wine Tasters Are Created By Moustache And Magic Words

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK (NEA)—It was a river of wine, flowing swiftly along the banks of tables heavy with food.

Seventeen new wines were on display and 350 connoisseurs had come to make a pilgrimage into the land of the fermented grape. With sniffs and sips they followed the stream as it changed color with each turn—white, red, pink, tawny.

"The whole idea is tasting wines," said Franz W. Siegel, a wine maker, "is to have the proper background."

And so the white wine adorned the fish; pink lapped at the turkey; and the red bubbled near the roast beef.

Single file, slower and slower, the pilgrimage wandered along. Now and then a snatch of conversation drifted out.

"Don't say domestic, say American..."

"You can drink white wine with meat..."

"Any port in a storm..."

Later the line of sippers became a circle with wine consultants and professional tasters stationed here and there to pass information to the pilgrims.

In front of the Very Dry, for example, you could learn that the average Frenchman drinks 42 gallons of wine each year—41 gallons more than the average American.

At the tawny port you might find out that there are no rules for drinking wine. "The wine you like," said a consultant, "is the wine to drink."

If you looked up from your sparkling burgundy, you would hear that American wines are popular abroad, winning medals in competition with French and Italian.

And from a professional taster who was wiping a wine drop from his nose, you would find, "In the final analysis it's the individual who must judge wine for himself. Every man should be a wine taster."

To be a wine taster, you need only a moustache, a look of assurance, and a vocabulary of "bouquet" and "clean."

The process itself is simple:

1. Pour a little wine on your hands and rub them together. If your hands smell only of wine, you should say, "This is clean wine."

2. Hold the wine glass to your nose. If it smells nice, you say, "This has a lovely bouquet." But if it does not smell nice, then say, "This bouquet is not clean."

3. Roll a sip of wine in your mouth. Do not swallow it. If it tastes good, roll your eyes. Later spit the wine into a small bucket.

In the words of one professional taster, "If you drink three glasses of wine, you won't know what you are tasting."

The experts never smoke or eat spicy foods. Their tests are held in odor-free rooms where nothing will interfere with their senses.

A professional can identify the different types of grapes used in the wine, locate the vineyards, and pin-point the age merely from a sip.

Alfred Fromm, who came to America as a wine taster, explained that in his day he was able to analyze wine with the best of them.

"But," he said, "when I took my first cigarette I stopped being a wine taster."

However, a spokesman for a vintners' association declared that heavy smokers should taste wines while they smoke.

"Keep the surroundings as natural as possible," he said. "After all, you are the one who is going to buy the wine."

The pilgrimage was still wandering from wine to wine. Sipping less and drinking more, their voices grew dimmer. At one point you could hear a gentleman asking, "How old is this brandy?"

A wine taster, who overheard him, said, "I will talk to him later and tell him that age is important, but that a bad wine gets worse with age."

Then a young lady near the roast beef said, "I just love champagne. It tickles my nose."

The wine taster said, "I will not talk to her. It would do no good."

600 Firms Give Workers Share In Profit-Sharing

By DOUGLAS LARSON

PHILADELPHIA (NEA)—A new and sizable group of U. S. workers may soon be cut in on a big share of the profits of the country's larger corporations.

This prediction came out of the fifth annual conference of the Council of Profit Sharing Industries, a fast growing organization with a membership of more than 600 firms employing more than 2,000,000 workers. Members include such outfits as Sears Roebuck, Motorola, Procter & Gamble and Eastman Kodak.

More than half of those attending the annual meeting, for the first time, were representatives of companies from all over the U. S. and Canada who were not members but who were eager to learn more about profit sharing plans.

These are some of the plans in store for workers:

A cash plan wherein a certain percentage of the firm's profit is added to the regular wages and distributed periodically.

Wage dividend plans where the percentage of the dividend is announced at the same time stockholder dividends are declared and in some cases is determined by the amount of dividend paid to the stockholder, according to a pre-arranged formula.

Stock ownership plans in which the employee shares through the issuance of company stock, and thus becomes one of the owners.

Trust plans in which a certain percentage of the company's profit is accumulated in a trust fund for employees, with or without employee contributions, and payable upon retirement.

Most convincing argument presented was that as a group the profit sharing firms had far higher earnings and paid higher regular wages than the country's average. James F. Lincoln, founder of the Lincoln Electric Co., of Cleveland, pioneer of the profit sharing idea, revealed at the meeting that this year the average income of all of his 1500 employees would be over $7500, topping every company in America.

It was also reported that such major corporations as the Pennsylvania Railroad, General Electric, General Motors, U. S. Steel and Du Pont had recently become seriously interested in studying profit sharing.

Other significant facts noted at the meeting were an expected friendlier attitude toward profit sharing by the new administration and most labor leaders.

"It has seemed that the government's attitude in the past 20 years has been to try to limit the output of labor," Lincoln explained. "Maybe the new administration will take a more enlightened view about increasing labor output through profit sharing," he said.

In the past there have been complaints about the reluctance of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and Wage Stabilization Board to approve profit sharing plans.

"As soon as employees learn what profit sharing really is and the it's not a speed-up or some other gimmick," said Clarence Polard, union representative of American Velvet Co., Stonington, Conn., "they are all for it."

William Loeb, chairman of the council and publisher of the Manchester, N. H., Union Leader, told the group that "the importance that profit sharing plans place on the contribution of the individual worker through his ideas and spirit, as well as his strength raises the dignity of the individual worker."

"In the American tradition, profit sharing places the emphasis on the worth of the individual," he added. "In contrast, in socialism orders come down from the top and the individual is considered only a cog in the machine of the state."

"Under profit sharing, every worker becomes a capitalist. The increased production resulting from profit sharing could double the national income in 10 years if profit sharing were universally adopted. The best proof of the effectiveness of profit sharing is the fact that profit sharing companies have the highest wage scales and the best profits of any comparable companies in the U. S."

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE RAW MATERIAL—Russell Cmejla, a logger in the area north of Perronville, stopped at the Daily Press office the other day with a bit of raw material very popular with the prehistoric Indian.

It is a piece of "float copper" he had found last summer in the bed of Ford River about five miles southeast of Cornwell. The piece of copper was about as large as a man's hand and weighed an estimated three or four pounds.

The Indians used this material in making spear points and knives and arrowheads. "Float" copper, incidentally, is so described because it was floated or carried southward from the copper ranges by the glacier some 10,000 to 15,000 years ago.

Cmejla found the metal wedged between rocks in the bed of the river. The swirling water and sand had kept the exposed portion of the metal polished to a reddish-gold luster. Flecks of bright metal, believed to be silver, dotted the copper.

ABORIGINAL TRADE—Cmejla came to show me the copper at the suggestion of Carl Sawyer of Escanaba, who knows of my interest in Indian artifacts.

I suggested to Cmejla that if he wished he could give it to the Delta County Historical Society. It would, in a display of Indian relics, show the raw material the Indians used in making copper artifacts.

Much of the copper the Indians used was obtained in trade with the Chipewas who controlled the copper deposits along the south shore of Lake Superior. Other copper came to them—as it did to Cmejla—by finding an occasional piece of float copper.

With stone hammers the Indians pounded the raw metal into the desired shapes. Small cone-shaped beads of copper, strung like tiny bells, were worn around the neck. The early French explorer spoke of "Indian bells" that tinkled with the movement of the wearer.

SPRING IN NOVEMBER—The mild weather this fall has brought evidence of spring to Northern Michigan woods and gardens.

In my own yard at home an occasional blossom shows on the dandelions.

Mrs. Nettie Olsen of Escanaba Rte. 1 writes to report that arbutus is showing buds—and sends along a spray of arbutus to prove it.

"While going to the swamp on our property this morning I picked these arbutus in bud," she reports. "I really believe this is something that has never happened before in November. Nature must have her seasons mixed."

And from Isabella comes a report that Mrs. Albert Watchorn picked a large bouquet of pansies in her yard on Saturday, Nov. 15.

CITY'S BIG BUSINESS—This has nothing to do with the vagaries of the weather, but it does indicate that the City of Escanaba compares with big business in its operations.

During the past fiscal year, according to City Manager A. V. Aronson and Comptroller Al Lawrence, the city's total revenues from utilities and general fund was $1,608,468.85.

The volume of the city's business in the interest of the taxpayer and the public is revealed in the amount of money it handles during the year.

To pursue the comparison, the Escanaba City Council could be considered the board of directors, representing the stockholders of the corporation—the people of the city.

The city manager is the administrative head of the corporation. He is responsible for the thousand and one operations of the city to the benefit of the public. The city's operations here—unlike that in most communities—includes five utilities: Water, gas, electricity, steam and sewage disposal.

In addition there are many major departments vitally affecting the public—streets, engineering, parks and forestry, recreation, fire, police, and of course, the utilities each with a department head.

Port Washington, Wis.—"Is it correct to use 'He reminiscenced' or 'He reminiscied,' or should one use only the noun, such as, 'He gave some reminiscences'?"—Miss M. L.

Answer.—Attempts to use reminiscence as a verb have been unsuccessful. Consequently, although to reminiscence was strongly opposed a century ago when it was introduced and was long considered to be in humorous use only, it has nevertheless become accepted usage among reputable writers.

Paterson, N. J.—"Has the spelling alright become an accepted substitute for all right?"—S. F. T.

Answer.—Not yet, but I think the time is not far off when it will be. The spelling has found such popular favor that some of the recent dictionaries show it as an entry, although with some such note as "not considered proper by authorities." Probably, however, there will long be distinctions between alright and all right, just as there are now between already and all ready.

Mrs. O. F. K., Chicago—At present rodeo may be pronounced either ROH-de-o or ro-DAY-o, according to one's preference. I have noticed a tendency lately, however, to return to the second and older pronunciation, the one first used by cowboys of the Southwest which approximated the Spanish pronunciation.

Reno, Nev.—"Is it proper to write, 'The population was decimated 50%'?"—E. P. L.

Answer.—Although decimate (from Latin decimus, tenth) is loosely used to indicate a considerable portion of the population that may or may not be exactly 10 per cent, it is altogether too weak a word to use for so large an amount as 50 per cent. Say rather, "Half the population died, or was killed, or was destroyed."

Let's settle the whole thing and change the expression from "money talks" to money whispers.

The Doctor Says... Fibroid Tumors of Uterus Common In Women Past 35

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

J. M. A. writes that she has a relative in her 40's who has a fibrous tumor of the womb and wants to know what it is. She says she has heard that these tumors shrink during the change of life and therefore wonders whether the relative should wait a while or have an operation at once.

To answer the last question first, it is true that fibroids tend to shrink during the menopause, but it is also true that the symptoms can be so severe that it is not wise to wait until nature brings this relief.

Fibroid tumors of the uterus are extremely common in women past the age of 35, and it is said that one woman in five has one or more fibroid tumors by the time she reaches this age.

Fibroids are tumors made up of muscle and other tissues which grow in the walls of the womb. What produce fibroids is not exactly known, and as yet there is no way to prevent them. On the other hand, if the age of the patient, the size of the tumors, and the trouble they are causing warrant it, there is a cure in surgery.

It is not often satisfactory to remove the fibroids and leave the womb in place, so that the operation usually involves removing the entire uterus, including the tumors.

Some fibroids are small and never cause any trouble. Others, however, grow slowly and may produce a feeling of pressure in the abdomen and general weariness. The most common and troublesome sign is excessive or abnormal bleeding, and if the fibroids continue to grow this gets constantly worse.

Specialists in diseases of women have done a lot of work on fibroids and as a result there is not so much suffering from them as there used to be.

Small fibroids which are not producing any symptoms merely have to be watched from time to time since they may grow and cause difficulty, at least up to the time of change of life. Larger ones must be followed more closely. If they start to grow rapidly, or if the symptoms get much worse, something may have to be done for them.

DECISION DIFFICULT

The fact that removal of the womb is a serious operation makes the decision about an operation difficult. In many cases it can be postponed till after or near the end of the childbearing period, though the presence of fibroids itself tends to make conception difficult.

Many women have been saved years of discomfort by having this operation when it was necessary. One cannot help but wonder whether some of the invalid women of previous generations were not doomed to that state of ill health because of having fibroids which could not be treated at that time.

Local Minister Tells Escanaba Kiwanians About Trip To Coast

An entertaining commentary on a trip to the west coast made this summer by himself and family was given by the Rev. James Bell at the Escanaba Kiwanis club meeting Monday noon.

The Bell family, including the Rev. and Mrs. Bell and three children, left Escanaba June 3 and were gone for a month on their automobile-trailer tour to Los Angeles and return. The trailer, a collapsible unit which weighed only 900 pounds fully loaded, was credited by the speaker for much of the success of the trip. The folding trailer housed the family and car every night, including camping in snowdrifts of Donner Pass June 25.

The Rev. Bell said that the average day of driving was 250 to 300 miles, with 396 miles for the longest day. An expense account showed that the vacation of 32 days cost $326, or about $10 a day for the entire family.

"I do not have a trailer for sale, and we are hoping for another similar trip when the opportunity presents itself," the Rev. Bell declared.

President-elect Harold W. Gasman conducted the meeting at the House of Ludington Monday. Kryn Bloom was program chairman for the day.

Earliest ABC's Used By Kingdom Of Ugarit

WASHINGTON—Man is learning more about his earliest A B C's from the kingdom of Ugarit.

Ugarit no longer exists. It vanished about 3,000 years ago. But the ancient city-state on modern Syria's Mediterranean shore still holds secrets of how the alphabet came into being, the National Geographic Society observes.

A French archeological team recently unearthed there the ivory throne of Ugarit's kings. More important were new discoveries by Professor C. F. A. Schaeffer, the expedition's leader, of graven clay tablets of cuneiform script in the Ugarit language, dating from 2,000 B. C.

Ras Shamra

In 1929, at a place called Ras Shamra north of Latakia in Syria, Prof. Schaeffer first discovered evidence of this lost city that stood on the Assyrian mainland opposite Mesopotamia and the Mediterranean.

Later it stood as the northern bastion of ancient Egypt's Middle Kingdom. Statues in ivory and gold, altars, idols, vases and hieroglyphic inscriptions show that the Egyptian pharaohs sent many gifts to the kings of Ugarit and used the city as a port.

Ugarit finally fell before Hittite invasions that broke ancient Egypt's power in the Near East. The city was wrecked by an earthquake and sacked by conquerors in the middle 1300's B. C. A century and a half later Ugarit ceased to exist, and with it one of man's earliest known alphabets passed into limbo.

the eastern cape of the island of Cyprus.

Its people knew how to write using an alphabet. As the first tablets were dug from a palace library, the news stirred the world of science.

Many scholars had considered the alphabet to be more recent, an accomplishment of the Phoenician seafaring peoples who roamed the Mediterranean from the great city of Tyre to the Pillars of Hercules, and even beyond into the unknown Atlantic.

Yet here was a totally unknown language of a time centuries earlier. It was used side by side with Egyptian hieroglyphics and Babylonian ideographs. But Ugarit script comprised only 30 different cuneiform signs—a true alphabet. Translated by experts in ancient languages, the tablets revealed a rich body of poetry and mythology with remarkable similarities to stories of the Old Testament. Charting the civilization of the ancient Canaanites, the tablets of Ugarit are recasting study of the Bible as well as the sources of Western languages.

Excavation has shown that Ugarit was occupied as early as the fifth millennium B. C. It became a rich and powerful center of commerce between the empires of

Guard Admits Giving Narcotics To Prison Inmate At Jackson

JACKSON (AP) — A recently-hired guard at Southern Michigan Prison pleaded guilty today to furnishing narcotics to an inmate.

The guard, 25-year-old Harold W. Peters, father of three, entered the plea before Circuit Judge John Simpson.

Assistant Deputy Warden Charles Cahill said the guard, arrested yesterday for questioning, admitted selling six morphine tablets to an inmate for $6 last Nov. 10.

Peters was held last May 19 as one of the several replacements needed following the wave of resignations caused by the April prison riot.

He was assigned to the prison hospital, where small daily supplies of narcotics are kept. Prison authorities did not name the inmate to whom the morphine was sold.

Peters was held in default of $1,800 bond pending sentencing.

Dope Fortune Seized In Raids; 6 Arrested

NEW YORK (AP)—Six persons were held on narcotics charges today after dawn-to-dusk raids in East Harlem which federal agents and city detectives said led to seizure of 1½ million dollars worth of heroin.

New Nurse Starts Work With Health Department Here

A new nurse for the Delta-Menominee Health Department Monday began duties here.

She is Miss Lois Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Leonard Nelson, 415 South 17th street. The Escanaba nurse, a graduate of Belin Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, previously worked in Green Bay with a visiting nurse association.

Miss Nelson replaces Mrs. Dorothy Boyle, who resigned sometime ago. She will work in the Delta County area.

The Delta-Menominee Health department now has a staff of six nurses and a nursing supervisor.

Students Injured As Auto Hits Hay Wagon In Marinette

MARINETTE—A Saturday night hay-ride party ended in Marinette General Hospital for 24 Marinette teenagers and their hosts, City Manager and Mrs. Robert L. Price, when a car driven by Carl Hotzel, 25-year-old Milwaukee bricklayer, plowed into the rear of the hay-wagon on Shore Drive at Pine Beach Road, a couple of blocks north of the hospital.

The accident occurred at 9:23 p. m., as the hay-ride party was returning to the Price home.

Hotzel pleaded nolle contendere (no contest) when he appeared before Marinette Police Justice Dan J. Corry Monday morning charged with driving while intoxicated.

He was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in Marinette County jail. In the event the fine is not paid he will spend an additional 60 days in jail.

Marinette and Menominee ambulances made eight trips to the hospital while the Ansel Rescue Squad administered first-aid at the crash scene. Six doctors were called to Marinette General Hospital and off-duty nurses returned to work. City police and county traffic officers assisted at the scene. Ten of the injured, all were Marinette or Lourdes High School students, remained in the hospital today, while 16 were treated and released. Eight of those injured were serious.

Hayes Requests City To Vacate Sidewalk Area

Escanaba's city attorney and counsel for H. C. Hayes, proprietor of the House of Ludington, differed sharply today at a special meeting of the Escanaba City Council on the question of the Council's right to vacate public property.

The discussion is the latest chapter in a story of admitted violation of city ordinance by Hayes in the enclosure with brick of a marquee at the House of Ludington entrance.

The enclosure extends the width of the sidewalk from the hotel to the curb.

"Unintentional Violation"

Today's special Council meeting was held at Hayes' request.

On Aug. 11 City Manager A. V. Aronson notified Hayes that construction work enclosing the marquee was unauthorized and he was told to stop operations until a permit had been obtained by him.

On Aug. 14 Hayes applied for a permit and was granted permission to improve only that portion of the hotel that did not include enclosing the marquee.

Despite this, the work on the marquee was completed. Counsel for Hayes today said it was an "unintentional violation" caused by delays, to safeguard the work already started, and to complete it before inclement weather.

Meeting Requested

On Nov. 7 City Manager Aronson advised Hayes to remove all construction work in excess of the permit within 10 days.

Yesterday Hayes filed a petition requesting the Council to vacate that portion of the sidewalk occupied by the marquee. The Council meeting was held today at Hayes' request.

In discussion before the Council today, Hayes' counsel pointed out instances in the past where city property had been vacated by public hearing, and other instances in which there had been encroachment on public property without the procedure of Council resolution and public hearing.

Council Asks Opinion

Counsel for Hayes said there was no element of "defiance" of the Council or the City Manager in the action to complete the structure. He asked the Council to adopt a resolution vacating that portion of the sidewalk in the 300 block on Ludington and to set a date for public hearing.

City Manager Aronson pointed out that the openings left for pedestrians on the sidewalk under the marquee are too narrow to permit passage of the city's sidewalk snowplow.

Atty. James Fitzharris of McGinn and Fitzharris, representing City Attorney Dennis McGinn, told the Council "it is our position that the City does not have the right to vacate this portion of the street" for private rather than public benefit.

Mayor Robert E. LeMire and the Council asked that a written opinion be submitted to the Council by the city attorney.

Counsel for Hayes objected and stated that public as well as private interest is involved and that the Council, not the city's administrative officers, are responsible for decisions in the vacating of public property.

Washington Whips Up Big Welcome

the President-elect's future home at 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue. Mamie Stays Behind

One stop was scheduled for the 15-car procession—at the Statler Hotel, where Mrs. Eisenhower arranged to wait out the conversations between her husband and the present tenant of the White House.

Why didn't the future first lady go along for a look at her new home?

Well, she wasn't invited until the last minute—until yesterday, in fact. The President's staff added a quick explanation that Mrs. Truman didn't know until Sunday that her successor was coming to Washington with the general.

Invited by telephone yesterday, Mrs. Eisenhower said sorry but she'd made other plans for the afternoon. The White House said, however, that she promised to come down from New York real soon and have a talk with Mrs. Truman about White-Housekeeping.

Because of the welcoming plans, the arrival time of the Eisenhowers after their flight from Augusta, Ga. was set back to 1:10 p. m., EST. This allowed for a 30-minute procession to the White House, where the briefing of the incoming president was scheduled to begin at 2 p. m.

Action Started In OPS To Cut Price Of Meat

ly. The letter said Woods made "irresponsible and inaccurate" statements in Minneapolis earlier this week "designed to turn consumers against meat packers and retailers."

Forbes said actually beef at wholesale is selling below ceiling prices—in some instances as much as 35 per cent below.

At Chicago, Public Relations Director Norman Draper of the American Meat Institute, which represents 500 meat-packing companies throughout the country, commented:

"Everybody is getting rather tired of distortion of truth by Tighe Woods. We wonder what office he may be running for. Perhaps he has forgotten there was an election Nov. 4."

No Strings On Ike From Truman Deal

20. In this connection, Republicans looked toward New York conference Wednesday between the general and GOP congressional leaders as likely to be decisive in charting his opening course.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio told reporters Monday Eisenhower will be asked to "point the way" on a half-dozen pressing legislative issues when he talks with Taft and Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, expected to become speaker of the new house.

Eisenhower also will see Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, scheduled to head the powerful appropriations committee, and Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, prospective new chairman of the foreign relations committee.

Wiley has urged Eisenhower to back publicly the American insistence in the U. N. that North Korean war prisoners should not be returned to their country against their will. But there is no sign the general will take any such action.

Nor was there any indication that Eisenhower would take a suggestion voiced by Democratic Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia that he designate now the men he expects to appoint to top-flight cabinet posts.

Pressure Is On

"It would be very helpful if Gen. Eisenhower would name the men he expects to appoint to his cabinet so that they could begin stinging in with present cabinet members," Russell told a reporter. "That way the transition could be made to the new administration without loss of time."

Sen. Herman Welker said in an interview he hopes Eisenhower appoints a couple of Southern Democrats to the cabinet.

"The Republican party has its best opportunity to make headway in the South and we should convince the Southerners that we intend to make them active participants in the government and lean on them for help and leadership," the Idaho Republican said.

He suggested the appointment of Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia as Secretary of the Treasury and Russell as secretary of defense. Russell supported Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, but Byrd did not.

Sen. Taft told reporters he had made some suggestions to Eisenhower about cabinet appointments but declined to mention any names.

Gov. Williams Lost Big Gamble When He Appointed Moody

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING, (P)—Gov. Williams has made some big gambles in his time, but he has lost his biggest—his appointment of Blair Moody to the United States Senate.

The favorite murmur of Democratic politicians now is "Boy, wouldn't Steve Roth have murdered that Potter?"

By this they mean that Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth of Flint, former attorney general, would have proved a much better candidate against Cong. Charles E. Potter, who seems to have beaten Moody by about 47,000.

Wasn't Well Known

You see, Roth was the runner-up for the appointment which went to Moody and, in the minds of most experienced Democrats was the better choice politically.

Of course, whether Roth would have swamped Potter is in the realm of pure speculation. But that fact that Williams staked all on Moody against the wishes of his party doesn't make the Moody defeat sit any better now.

When you stand off and look at it calmly, Moody made a spectacular run.

You must consider, first, that outside of Detroit he was virtually unknown when Williams named him senator—and that even in Detroit to most people he was only a by-line in the Detroit News, a man who had been in Washington for 18 years.

You must consider that practically no one in the party, except Williams, wanted Moody appointed. Not that he was personally unacceptable to many factions, but that each had someone it wanted more.

Michiganers Snubbed

You must concede that Moody's first year in office was hardly conducive to building strong political defenses back home. The word is that his staff snubbed Michiganers who came to the office for help and that it seemed to make no connection between the fact that Moody was a senator and that he was a senator from Michigan.

A newspaperman who had a newspaperman as his press secretary, Moody never seemed to be able to sell the story of his accomplishments in Washington to the people in Michigan.

He came back to run against Cong. Potter, a man with impressive financial backing and great emotional appeal. The Democrats said privately Moody was licked before he started.

But a month before the election Moody began to roll. He hammered at Potter's congressional absenteeism and Potter's voting record. He made friends and began to pick up the independent vote. He knocked Potter off the top of the ticket and made a strong showing on election night—much stronger than most people believed possible.

Party Lost Prestige

But the Democrats look back regretfully and say that a popular, shrewd campaigner like Roth would never have had to start so far behind.

They argue that Roth might not have made such a splash as Moody in Washington for a freshman—a splash which was not heard in Michigan—and that Roth would have had solid party backing by the time he faced Potter. They think Roth could have won.

The Moody defeat becomes even more vital when you consider that the Nov. 4 election gave the GOP 48 Senate seats and the Democrats 47, with one maverick not panned on either reservation yet.

The election of a Michigan Democrat could have changed the whole nature of the Senate.

Faith In God Needed To Maintain Freedom, President Declares

WASHINGTON (P)—President Truman said yesterday Americans must keep a strong faith in God if they wish to maintain their freedoms "in the face of the terrible menace of totalitarianism and war."

The President also called on the nation's religious leaders to unite against "outbreaks of bigotry" which he said might arise from time to time, but which he said could be prevented "if we will be true to our national ideals."

The remarks were in an address delivered at the laying of the cornerstone of a new temple for the 100-year-old Washington Hebrew Congregation.

Modern Bride Is A Better Cook Than Her Mother

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Today's bride is a better cook than—of even her husband's mother. So says a woman who has spent her life teaching other women how to cook and trying to lift American culinary standards.

She is a brisk, smiling Clara Snyder, consumer service consultant for the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers and wife of Dr. Lloyd Snyder, Professor of farm economics at the University of Nebraska.

Says Mrs. Snyder:

"Young brides needn't stand for that nonsense about the pies 'like mother used to make' any longer. Husbands who continue the old refrain should be forced to supply proof, and compare one of mom's mythical pies with a product of his bride's modern kitchen. Ten-to-one the younger generation wins."

Investigation Ordered On Improper Handling Of Michigan Ballots

LANSING (AP)—“Serious investigation” of 83 cases of improper ballot box handling was promised by the state elections director as Governor Williams sent him a new batch of reported irregularities.

Elections chief Edward W. Frey promised Williams that county prosecutors would be asked to take action against township clerks in some of the cases.

State Police Check

These were the developments as both Williams and his Republican opponent, Fred M. Alger Jr., left the state for Florida vacations while election officials finished the official canvass of the Nov. election.

canvassed, Williams holds a 7,790 lead over Alger.

Before he left, Williams handed Frey, a subordinate of Alger's, a new list of what he said were 194 cases of improper ballot box handling in 45 counties.

It was the second list prepared by state police who are checking all the boxes and voting machines in the state's 4,480 precincts. The first list, which Frey analyzed, contained 200 claimed violations of law.

No Tampering

State Republican Chairman Owen J. Cleary greeted Williams' published reports with the charge the governor was trying to pressure the GOP out of asking for a recount.

Frey said the first list submitted to him included 114 cases out of 699 inspections "which will require the election division's official attention." Of that number, 83 will require "serious investigation," Frey said.

He said the division found no cases which "looked to be a premeditated attempt to tamper with the ballot boxes and machines."

Prosecutors will be asked to investigate:

- 27 cases of unsealed ballot boxes;
- One case where a ballot box seal was broken;
- Two cases where ballot boxes were found empty;
- 11 cases where top slots on boxes were not properly sealed;

In Trunk of Car

One case where a ballot box was found locked in a car trunk—this one referred "for definite action."

Frey said local clerks would be asked "to explain" 13 cases of improper seals on ballot boxes, possibly due to "fatigue or carelessness," and other instances where ballot boxes were sealed but not locked.

Frey said clerks were being notified in six cases to move ballot boxes to safer locations.

Frey said 179 cases of boxes located in township halls or the residences of township clerks were all justifiable.

He promised prosecution in any case where there is "conclusive proof that there has been a deliberate attempt to tamper with either the ballot boxes or voting machines."

Modern Male Wears Apron And Likes It

By LLOYD WOLFE

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Remember when a self-respecting male wouldn't be caught dead in an apron?

Times have changed.

The modern married male not only helps the little woman around the house, but actually thinks he likes pitching in. In fact, a survey by Dean Lela O'Toole, chief home economist at Oklahoma A and M College, revealed 77.2 per cent of married student husbands regularly help out with the household chores.

Compare this with the 26.2 per cent figure she allots to older married men.

The reason is simple she says. The marriage theory currently accepted by the younger set is that marriage is a partnership.

A thought like that in dad's time was heresy.

"People are getting married earlier," she says. "There are fewer single women in the younger age brackets than ever before. Economic pressures have shifted. Rigid distinctions between what men and women do around the home are a vanishing aspect of the American household."

But the thing that has made the difference is the attitude of the community.

"Men at work in the house is no longer sissy—it's the thing to do."

Of course the new order of things has given women a few bad moments also.

"The woman has to be willing to change her attitude. She may have to get used to the idea of the house note one like she might want."

Side-Porch Runway Aids Carrier Planes

By VERN HAUGLAND

(Associated Press Aviation Reporter)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and British Navies have invented a new kind of carrier flight deck—a "side porch" runway angled off to the left side of the ship.

It is designed to make landing safer and easier for jet aircraft. And with the far end of the runway jutting over the port side of the carrier, the likelihood of a plane crashing into others parked on the flight deck, or into the carrier island, is greatly reduced.

No Name Yet

The two Navies jointly announced that the new deck arrangement is being installed for test purposes on the Essex class carrier Antietam, at the New York naval shipyard.

The British, who thought up the idea, call it the angled deck. The Americans, arguing that "angled" might imply slanted or tilted—whereas the deck is perfectly level—tentatively call it the canted deck.

"We are open to suggestions," said Rear Adm. T. S. Combs, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics. One newsman suggested the V-deck, since the angled deck juts off from the regular flight deck to form a narrow deck. Other suggestions: side-porch deck, check deck, cockeyed cornice.

Combs said the conversion of the Antietam will cost around a million dollars but should result in even greater savings in terms of ship damage, reduced weight and savings of life.

Canal Too Narrow

He said carriers with the new-type deck will be unable to pass through the Panama Canal because the deck will add about 34 feet to their top width.

Combs said the safety factor arises from the fact that the line of flight is off to the left side of the ship.

"If the plane falls, it goes over the side of the deck and only one plane is lost," he said.

"If the forward firing guns go off accidentally as the plane is landing, they would discharge into the water. And if the rockets should come off in landing, there would be no danger of them sliding along the flight deck as has happened."

Make Merry with Milk for Health and Pleasure...

By MARY MANNING

Milk can be the basis for many a cheerful drink—and at the same time give you energy and nourishment not found in many other refreshments.

For example, here's a SHERBET MILK SHAKE that's both wonderfully delicious and healthful.

To one quart of FAIRMONT MILK, add one pint of Fairmont Orange Sherbet, juice of half a lemon, 1/4 teaspoon of salt, and fruit topping, if you wish.

Place in shaker or covered fruit jar, shake well, and serve cold. This makes six of the most delicious Milk Shakes you ever tasted.

And each one has the rich, delicious goodness of creamy FAIRMONT MILK. This is milk at its very best. So fresh, and so refreshing. So good to drink—and so good for you. A glass of cold, fresh FAIRMONT

MILK is a wonderful treat anytime.

CHOCOLATE MILK SHAKE

Some folks call this a "BLACK COW." Your family will love it. Mix 1/2 cup of chocolate syrup to four cups of cold fresh FAIRMONT MILK, and pour into six tall glasses. Add several scoops of Fairmont Vanilla Ice Cream to each glass. Top with whipped cream, if you wish.

For the "Southern Variety," use heavy, dark molasses instead of the chocolate syrup.

There are so many interesting ways to serve milk, we should never be at a loss to find some way that will appeal to every member of the family. And everyone—teenagers and adults, as well as children—should drink delicious, nourishing FAIRMONT MILK every day. It's the "GROW" Food, it's the "GO" Food. Take FAIRMONT MILK—you'll say it's the best milk in town.

Eleven Game Cases Heard

Eleven game cases ranging from illegal shooting of a doe to using an unlawful rifle in hunting were heard in Manistique justice court yesterday.

Archie MacGregor, of Manistique, who pleaded guilty to killing a doe, had three officers as witnesses as he bagged the animal at 2:15 Sunday on the old Floodwood road north of the Woods District.

Conservation Officer Harold Peters and Fire Officers James Berry and George Young, all of Germfask, drove up behind MacGregor when he got out of a car to take aim at a deer, and watched him as he shot. The officers, however, were unable to see the animal from the spot where their car was parked.

In court MacGregor said he shot at a buck but accidentally hit a doe.

Pays $50 Fine

He paid a fine of $50 and costs of $7.50. The alternative was a 20-day jail sentence.

The rifle MacGregor used belonged to another member of his party and was not confiscated. His deer hunting privileges, however, were revoked for three years.

Three downstate hunters pleaded guilty to having loaded rifles in their cars and paid fines and costs of $27.50 each. They were Ferdinand Krause and Louis Fylyng, of Port Huron, and Henry Clemons, of Detroit. They were arrested Nov. 15 in Seney township by Conservation Officer Leslie Walstrom of Seney, and were brought into court by Fire Officer Walter Niemi, also of Seney.

Norman DePollo, of Detroit, paid a fine and costs of $17.50 for failure to attach his tag to a buck he had slain. He was arrested Nov. 16 in Germfask township by Walstrom and brought to court by Niemi.

William Holley, of Alma, and Henry Maynard, of Plymouth, pleaded guilty to using an illegal rifle to hunt deer and were assessed fines and costs of $17.50 each.

Hunted Too Early—They were arrested Nov. 16 by Conservation Officer Ernest Derwin, of Manistique, Holley in Manistique township and Maynard in Hiawatha township.

Both had automatic rifles larger than a .22 rim fire capable of holding more than six shells, contrary to statute.

Four hunters paid fines and costs of $17.50 each for having rifles or shotguns with ball loads in the woods on Nov. 14, the day before the opening of season.

The four, arrested by Conservation Officer Ernest Derwin, were Rex Shew, of Muneth, who had a shotgun with a ball load in Inwood township; James Black, of Kalamazoo, who was transporting a rifle in Hiawatha township; Joe Cekola, of Kalamazoo, who had a shotgun with a ball load in Hiawatha township; and Howard Ream, of Edwardsburg, who was carrying a rifle in Inwood township.

Carl L. Carlson has been named chairman of the 1953 cancer campaign in Schoolcraft County. It is announced by Mrs. J. Joseph Herbert, commander of the Schoolcraft County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Carlson, who is associated with his brother, J. Mauritz Carlson, in the operation of the Manistique Lumber and Coal Company, has been prominently identified with local community affairs for several years. He is a past master of Lakeside Lodge No. 371, F. and A. M.; a past exalted ruler of Manistique Lodge No. 632, B. P. O. E.; a member of the Manistique Rotary Club, and a member of the Top O'Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

Sidney Bouwer, who is chief engineer of the Inland Lime and Stone Company, has been appointed vice chairman of the cancer fund drive.

The annual campaign is slated to open next April 1.

Besides Mrs. Herbert, other county chapter officials are: Mrs. Frank Arrowood, vice commander; Mrs. Clarence Peterson, secretary; Mrs. Carl Olson, educational director; Mrs. Vilas Young, dressings chairman, and J. Mauritz Carlson, chairman of the revolving loan fund.

A list of township chairmen will be announced later, Mrs. Herbert said.

A volunteer corps of approximately 30 Schoolcraft County women Saturday completed a smoker re-survey in the county in connection with the campaign to determine the relationship between smoking and lung cancer.

The initial survey was made last year.

Results of the re-survey have been forwarded to national headquarters to be included in the national study. Surveys in Michigan will be continued over a five-year period. The state has been commended for the careful survey made in 1951, Mrs. Herbert said.

The value of pi can be remembered by using the sentence, "How I want a drink, alcoholic, of course," figures in pi (3.1415926) corresponding to the number of letters in successive words of the sentence.

Cage Season Opens In U. P. This Week

Upper Peninsula high schools open the 1952-53 basketball season with a heavy slate of games on all fronts this week. Smaller schools in the Peninsula will fire an opening salute tonight and tomorrow with the big guns swinging on the target Friday and Saturday.

A few schools opened last Saturday night with Nahma, Class E U. P. and state champs, stretching their win streak to 22 games by beating Grand Marais 67-49 and Mass blasting Lake Linden 75-49.

Stiff Test

Nahma faces a stern test tonight at Cooks where Coach Babe Anderson's Arrows run into a veteran squad mentored by Bob Thibault.

Coach Paul Winkkainen's Bark River Bronco test their shooting eyes at Hermansville in the opener for both teams tonight. Escanaba will furnish the setting for an intra-city clash Saturday night which matches a pair of last year's district champions. St. Joe, Coach Tom St. Germain's annual Class C power, entertains the Escanaba Eskimos who are coached this year for the first time by Burt Gustafson, former Marquette Northern athletic great.

The St. Joe Trojans copped the district championship staged in Norway's gym and battled into the Upper Peninsula regional finals at Negaunee's big Memorial gymnasium.

B Champions

Escanaba came through with the district Class B crown at Me-nominee but was eliminated in the regional staged at Ironwood.

On Wednesday night Perkins opens the current campaign in a home stand against Engadine.

A U. P. Central League game Friday night sends Trenary to Rock, while Eben is host to Munising. Nahma swings back into action at Hermansville and Bark River travels to Perkins on Friday. Powers is at Rapid River Saturday night.

Close on the heel of the recent Upper Peninsula football season, the hoop sport will gather momentum this week and then hits the sports scene in full force starting next week. Basketball will dominate the sports scene until next spring when U. P. and state crowns are determined at tournament time.

The full slate of games this week follows:

This item is strictly for the old timers. And especially the old time golfers. Clarence Lamboley, who was pro at the Escanaba Golf Club about 25 years ago, was the subject of a nice article in a recent issue of Golfdom. Bill Duchaine of Nahma passed it on to us.

Lamboley is now pro-superintendent at the Meshingomesia Country Club at Marion, Ind. He and his wife (the former Virginia Rockwell whom he married here) have been at Marion for 21 years. The article is high in praise of Lamboley's faithfulness and loyalty at Marion. When he first took the job as club pro the course was practically on the rocks. At present it is very comfortably fixed and Lamboley is regarded as its saviour.

Escanaba Eskimo football fans may remember the name of Allan Felch, a big Marinette fullback who ran wild in high school circles a number of years back. We spotted Felch's picture in yesterday's Milwaukee Sentinel. Still operating from the fullback slot, Felch was a factor in Kentucky's 27-14 victory over Clemson Saturday.

Three players from Menominee's Upper Peninsula football championship team are reported anxious to follow in the illustrious footsteps of Billy Wells, former Maroon athlete. The three, Loren Wall, Wayne Ewald and John Martell, are going to give a looksee at Michigan State College.

As you can see, it didn't take the 1952-53 basketball season long to creep up on us. Action started throughout the Upper Peninsula this week. For local fans the lid comes off Saturday night when the Escanaba Eskimos invade Bonifas gym to battle the St. Joe Trojans. It will mark the debut of Burt Gustafson as Escanaba's varsity cage coach.

Dave Lawrence, the big Powers fullback who was a standout on Coach Jerry Anzalone's undefeated Tigers last season, earned a freshman football letter at the University of Michigan this season. Dave has been switched to a center. As far as we know, he's the only U. P. boy to get his freshman numerals in football at Michigan this year. Only one other center made it.

Spartans Stretch Lead In AP Weekly Grid Poll

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan State, leader for most of the season in the Associated Press poll of the nation's top college football teams, apparently has only to beat Marquette Saturday to wrap up its first national football championship.

Michigan State's impressive 21-3 thumping of Notre Dame, combined with Georgia Tech's close call against Alabama and Maryland's upset loss to Mississippi, left the undefeated Spartans off by themselves with nearly two-thirds of the first-place votes from 127 sports writers and broadcasters participating in this week's poll.

Huge Margin
Michigan State was named first by 80 voters and piled up 1,168 points on the usual basis of 10 points for first, nine for second and so on down the line. Despite its close game with Alabama, Georgia Tech managed to retain second place. The writers appeared about evenly divided in their regard for third-ranked UCLA and fourth-ranked Southern California. Tech received 1,090 points as compared to 968 for UCLA and 911 for USC.

Track Opening Is Big Flop

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Bowie race track lay idle today, and it looked to disconsolate Larry S. MacPhail as if he'd turned up snake eyes in his five million dollar gamble with nasty November weather.

The grand opening of the gem of the Southern Maryland sand flats was a bust Monday when jockeys refused to ride because of the muddy, rain-soaked track. It won't be known until this afternoon whether racing will be resumed here Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the Maryland Racing Commission said if the Bowie track still appears unsafe the rest of its 16 racing days will be transferred to Pimlico in Baltimore.

MacPhail bought the track last year with some partners for a reported three million dollars and laid out a two million dollar improvement program.

The flop was a big blow to MacPhail, whose financial success in his investments in the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees is legendary.

End Of Rose Bowl Seen In 1954 By Spartan President

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan State President John Hannah's prediction that the Big Ten will end its Rose Bowl contract in 1954 has brought a reaction as quick and cautious as a goal line stand.

The Rose Bowl, as every kid in shoulder pads knows, is the oldest of college football's annual post-season classics, dating back to 1902.

The Pacific Coast Conference, which provides the host team each New Year's Day at Pasadena, Calif., has an agreement ending Jan. 1, 1954, with the Big Ten, which supplies the opponent.

West Coast Is Big Game Site

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The critics, coaches and thousands of football fans delved deeply today into the prospects of the Rose Bowl showdown game in the Coast Conference between Southern California and UCLA, but they could agree on only one point.

This is that the matter should be a whale of a ball game.

The rivals collide in Memorial Coliseum Saturday. At stake are the conference championship, the golden opportunity to represent the Coast in the Rose Bowl against the Big Ten invader, and the perfect records in eight games for both teams.

Millions will see the contest on television as the nation's TV game of the week on the NCAA slate of telecasts.

The betting fraternity is going on an even money, take your pick choice.

Defensively, most critics give SC a slight edge. The Washington Huskies, badly beaten by both, tabbed the Trojans in this department for the most part, but a majority picked UCLA to win.

Most observers think UCLA has an edge on offense. The starting four includes the sensational Paul Cameron at the half, or tailback position in his single wing attack. Don Stalwick at right half, Cappy Smith at fullback, and Lewis Williams at the quarter, or blocking back.

All-Star Keg Tourney Is Set For Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The national individual match game championships of the annual All-Star Bowling Tournament will be fought by a field of 160 men and 64 women. The tourney, to be held at the Chicago Coliseum Dec. 6-14, offers a total of $13,955 in prize money.

Sectional qualifying trials, plus seeded players, determined the field.

Mrs. Marion Laewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., will be seeking her fourth straight women's crown. June McMahon of Chicago is defending men's champion.

The arrangement began in 1947 and was renegotiated last year.

Eligible Next Year

And Dr. Hannah, whose college becomes a Big Ten member next year—hence, eligible to vote on renewing the contract—forecasts it will be dropped. He added:

"I think the presidents of the Pacific Coast Conference think about as I do."

Hannah declined to speculate whether that meant there would be no Rose Bowl after Jan. 1, 1954, but he said: "If there is, I suspect that the Big Ten will not participate in it."

Elimination of all post-season competition, football bowls included, was one recommendation of a special committee of the American Council of Education. Hannah was chairman of the group, which conducted a nationwide investigation into college sports programs.

Hannah's remarks Monday, in a copyrighted interview the U. S. News and World Report, a weekly news magazine, brought out a flood of comment—and "no comment."

Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. Tug Wilson, reached at Chicago, would say only: "The conference will act on a decision of renewing the Rose Bowl contract some time next year."

Coast Attitude

Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt, was noncommittal. He told reporters at Corvallis, Ore., "The conference has found its relationship with the Rose Bowl over the last half century to be satisfactory and desirable."

Also at Corvallis, Oregon State President A. L. Strand said: "The California schools are irrevocably married to the Rose Bowl." He said northern schools in the conference would go along with the California members.

However, President Harry K. Newburn of the University of Oregon said at Eugene he was ready to back Dr. Hannah. Dr. Newburn said he could not speak for presidents of other Coast Conference schools but that he decided some time ago bowl games should be abolished.

Baseball Heads Will Look For Bargains

By RALPH RODEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody loves a bargain and that's what major league officials will be looking for next month at Phoenix, Ariz., when they participate in the annual draft of minor league players.

More than 1,000 minor league players are draft bait but the majors are not expected to pluck more than 20 for prices ranging from $15,000 to $20,000.

Scouts, managers and owners have been pouring over the voluminous list of players for over a week and by the time the draft opens on Dec. 1, they will have agreed on their choices.

The list is filled with the names of players who have starred in the majors in the past or who have gone up and been found wanting.

Among the names are such old favorites as Kirby Higbe, former star pitcher of Brooklyn, Red Munger, once a top right-hander with the St. Louis Cardinals, Ron Northey, the ex-Chicago, St. Louis and Philadelphia National League slugger; and Sam Chapman, former great of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Bonus Babies

There's also a fair sprinkling of high priced bonus players up for grabs. Gus Kerkiazos heads the list. Gus received around $65,000 from the Chicago White Sox a few years ago. He can be had for $15,000 now from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League. Other bonus players available for rock bottom prices include catcher Earl Bruckner Jr., San Diego, outfielder Stan Holmigg, Louisville, pitchers Frank Followell, Hartford, Wally Hood, Montreal, and Hugh Radcliffe, Kansas City.

Dark horses include pitcher Charley Le Brun of Kansas City, pitcher Julian Joyner of Columbus of the Sally League, pitcher Elroy Face of Montreal, outfielder Bob Lennon of Minneapolis, and pitcher George Dries of New Orleans.

Other good bets to move up are former Pittsburgh outfielders Tom Saffell and Ted Beard, now at Hollywood; outfielder Russ Rae and second baseman Earl Weaver of Columbus of the American Association, and third baseman Russ Kerns of Baltimore.

Seek Gunman Who Held Up MSC Grid Captain

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Michigan State College statement hinted faintly today that campus police have a lead on a man who robbed football Capt. Don McAuliffe of tickets to the sell-out Notre Dame-MS-C game last week.

The statement, issued by Leland W. Carr Jr., of the law firm of Sigler and Anderson, college attorneys, quoted McAuliffe as acknowledging publicly for the first time yesterday that the robbery occurred.

It added that the robbery was reported to campus police last Tuesday immediately after it happened, but that it only "came to the attention of the college administrative officials this Monday morning."

Seek Lead

The police, the statement said, began "an investigation of the identity of the person who took the tickets from Capt. McAuliffe x x x with the hope of either detecting him at the game or obtaining a lead as to his identity from persons who occupied the seats covered by the tickets."

The statement quoted McAuliffe as saying he was approached last Tuesday, four days before the big game, "by a man indicating that he was a mutual friend of certain Chicago acquaintances of McAuliffe."

McAuliffe lives in Chicago. The man asked McAuliffe if he could sell him some tickets for himself and a group of friends who were in Lansing.

Goes With Man
"McAuliffe agreed to supply some tickets for this group," the statement said. "Accordingly, McAuliffe met this person after practice and was invited by him to accompany him to the place in Lansing where the group supposedly was staying."

McAuliffe said he accompanied the man to the Washington apartment building and was invited in to "meet the boys."

"After stepping inside the door," the statement continued, "the man pulled out a gun and ordered McAuliffe to hand over the tickets. Immediately on McAuliffe's compliance with that order, this person stepped out through an emergency exit.

"McAuliffe was unable to follow him, and immediately thereafter returned to the campus, and the incident was reported to the college police."

Had 16 Tickets
The statement said that following "the approved practice of the (Big Ten) conference," McAuliffe, as team captain, "was entitled to possession of 16 tickets." It added that "it appears likely that the unidentified person who took the tickets from his possession knew of that rule."

Another report of the incident came from Lansing police who said they had been asked for assistance on the case last Wednesday. A detective was assigned to work with campus police, but was withdrawn. Lansing police officials said, when they were informed McAuliffe did not want to press charges.

College officials, however, are apparently insisting that the investigation be pressed.

Ted Williams' Dad Dies At Age Of 66

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP) — Funeral services for Samuel S. Williams, 66, father of the Boston Red Sox slugger star Ted Williams, were to be held here today.

Ted, recalled to active duty with the Marines last spring, was unable to attend. He is awaiting overseas duty orders at Cherry Point, N. C.

Sam Williams, a native of New York, died Monday.

Sport Shorties

Dr. S. J. Morris is the only team physician West Virginia University has had. He's patched up the Mountaineers for 35 years.

Jim Busby, outfielder for the Washington Senators, entered Texas Christian University in 1946 on a football scholarship.

The Boston Red Sox made three triple plays during 1924 to tie the record made by the 1911 Detroit Tigers.

Jim Brideweser, rookie infielder, was signed to a Yankee contract right off the University of Southern California campus.

Bobby Adams and Roy McMillan of the Cincinnati Reds were the only members of the team to play in all 154 Redleg games.

Baseball Backs Radio In Fight

CHICAGO (AP) — Thirteen major league baseball teams and American League President Will Harridge deny a broadcast monopoly exists in the majors.

They filed answers Monday in U. S. District Court to a 12 million dollar damage suit by the Liberty Broadcasting System.

Liberty charged a "continuing conspiracy to monopolize and restrain competition in broadcasting and recreating play-by-play accounts of professional baseball games."

The radio network—said by its president, Gordon McLendon, to have the second largest number of station-clients in 1951—went bankrupt after it failed to obtain major league broadcast rights for its Game-of-the-Day program in 1952.

Harridge and the 13 clubs—all major league teams except the Brooklyn Dodgers, Cincinnati Reds and Chicago White Sox—denied flatly any wrongdoing. They said each team has sole jurisdiction over its broadcast rights and declared this is "lawful and reasonable."

In Dallas, McLendon said he would continue to press the legal fight.

Spartans And Irish Will Renew Gridiron Series In '54 Season

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State and Notre Dame have a long football rivalry before them, says State's athletic director, Ralph Young.

The teams started playing each other in 1948. They won't meet in 1953 because of schedule difficulties.

Young told a quarterback luncheon yesterday, "we'll be back together on the football field in 1954 and for many years after that."

Spartans Closer To Cross Country Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan State College took another step yesterday in its bid to sweep 1952 collegiate cross country competition by winning the IC4-A cross country run.

State took the meet with 46 points gained on third, seventh, eighth, ninth, and 19th place finishes. Army finished second with 93 points.

The Spartans need only to win the NCAA championship next week to make a complete sweep of major college cross country runs this year. They won the Big Ten crown last week and earlier in the season tagged Penn State for the eastern school's only defeat.

MSC Eyes Undeclared Year; Marquette Foe

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—When an outclassed fighter goes up against the champion, the ring announcer generally refers to the victim as "that promising young crowd pleaser."

That's a pretty good description of Marquette University, the team that fills the last date of the football season for Michigan State Saturday.

Michigan State will be trying to make its victories add up to two dozen and complete a second straight undefeated year.

Upset Unlikely
There are few who would dare entertain the idea that Marquette could upset the team that now has beaten Michigan and Notre Dame three straight seasons.

The Marquette record so far has been unimpressive. Wisconsin rolled over the Hilltoppers 42-19, Holy Cross won by 17-0, Miami of Ohio did it 22-21 and Miami of Florida won 20-6.

The Marquette victories were over Boston University 21-0, Detroit 37-27, and Arizona 37-7.

Marquette is a surprising school when it meets Michigan State in football, however. After being beaten 47-0 in 1948, 48-7 in 1949 and 34-6 in 1950, the Hilltoppers came near to dumping Michigan State here a year ago.

Narrow Squeeze
At one point in the game, Marquette was ahead by a 14-6 score and the Spartans won by only a 20-14 margin.

"They gave us our hardest game of the season," Coach Biggie Munn of Michigan State said after it was over. "Marquette will come into this game healed and rested after an open date last Saturday. Michigan State is likely to be down after the Notre Dame game."

So Munn isn't taking the season's ender for granted, whatever the thoughts of nearly every other football follower in the nation.

Panin Out
Dick Panin of Detroit, one-time first string MSC fullback who has been often benched this season, broke a leg in practice yesterday. He was taken to the college hospital with a fracture of his left leg between the knee and ankle. He was hit running against a team of freshmen and junior varsity players.

Panin, who scored the opening touchdown against Notre Dame in MSC's 1951 rout of the Irish, did not even play against Notre Dame last Saturday and has often been out of the line-up this season.

U. S. Net Stars In Tournament

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Vic Seixas, captain of the U. S. Davis Cup team, has a good idea today of what his squad will be up against when it takes on Australia's defending cup team.

Seixas rallied today to gain the quarter-final round of the New South Wales tennis tournament while three down under stars advanced to the semi-final round and another to a quarter-final meeting with Seixas.

The American captain was on the brink of elimination when he rallied to defeat Rex Hartwig, a reserve player on the Aussie team, 7-5, 3-6, 5-7, 6-3, 7-5.

Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., failed to survive the quarter-finals, bowing to Australia's Ken Rosewall.

In the other quarter finals, Frank Sedgman defeated Billy Sidwell, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4, and Ken McGregor downed Geoff Brown, 12-10, 6-3, 6-4.

Stanford Coach Has No Gridiron Secrets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Chuck Taylor of Stanford isn't keeping any secrets this week.

The genial coach, preparing for the traditional big game Saturday against California at Berkeley, told sports writers Monday.

"I can tell the Bears right now how to prepare for us. We don't have any running attack because of injuries to key halfbacks. We expect to throw the ball 60 times if we can hold it that number of times."

Typhoons can be 500 miles across.

Kress Nears All-Time Michigan Grid Records

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Here's the way Michigan's Star Halfback, Ted Kress, stands with one game left to go:

1. Already the holder of the best first year yardage performance in Michigan history with 1,099 yards in eight games.

2. 296 yards short of the best season ever recorded by a Michigan player.

3. 273 yards short of the best ground gaining average in Wolverine grid annals.

Chappuis Has Record

All America Bob Chappuis set the best season record in 1947. But his 279 yard Rose Bowl performance is included in his total of 1,395 yards. Therefore, with one game yet to go Kress appeared a cinch to collect more than 17 yards and pass Chappuis' nine game total of 1,116 yards.

The best Michigan mark was Tom Harmon's 1939 performance of 1,372 yards. That mark was established in eight games and is therefore untouchable but Kress has already bettered that by six yards and greatly surpassed the first year marks of Herman (708 yards) and Chappuis (578 yards).

Kress has achieved his thumping total with a balanced effort that collected 573 yards rushing and 526 yards passing.

He is well out front of Quarterback Ted Topor, who has passed for 340 yards, and holds a similar edge over Freshman Tony Brannoff, who is the No. 2 runner with 283 yards.

Kress and Topor are tied for the Wolverine scoring lead with six touchdowns each for 36 points.

Perry Is Leader

End Lowell Perry strengthened his hold on the pass receiving leadership in Saturday's 21-10 conquest of Purdue with four catches that gave him 32 for the season. They've been good for 319 yards.

That's the statistical picture as Coach Bennie Oosterbaan yesterday started preparation for the crucial showdown battle with Ohio State in Columbus, O., Saturday.

Scout Bill Orwig warned the Michigan squad about the growing momentum of the Buckeye team that whipped rugged Illinois 27-7 Saturday. Oosterbaan emphasized the aerial prowess of Quarterback John Borton, who threw two touchdowns passes and the running ability of such backs as Howie Cassidy, Fred Bruney and John Hlay.

The Michigan coach also expressed anxiety over an ankle sprain suffered by Tackle Jim Balog in the Purdue game.

'Challenge' Accepted By Outfielder Rivera

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim Rivera, Chicago White Sox outfielder now on Commissioner Ford Frick's probation list because of a scandal, accepts "the challenge."

He said Monday Frick's decision was "all right with me." He added:

"I'd rather he hadn't made any decision since I was cleared. But I accept the challenge and will give my answer on the field to the fans' loyalty. I understand 95 out of every 100 are for me."

A Cook County Grand Jury exonerated Rivera of a rape charge in October. Last week Frick said the 29-year-old outfielder was "guilty of a certain type of moral delinquency" and put him on probation.

Local Hunters Have Fair Luck

While luck hasn't been too good, a fair number of Gladstone hunters are filling their licenses.

At the O. S. Hult camp, Hilding Norstrom was the only one to tag a buck up to Monday noon of the party of eight.

Nearby at the Jack Snowwaert camp, Cleve Krout Jr., got a nice 6 point, 165 pounder on Saturday while Sunday Harold Mackie downed a 8-pointer weighing an estimated 185 pounds. The deer were brought to Gladstone Monday to be placed in a cooler.

Police Officer Fred Moran was another of the successful hunters, getting a nice spikehorn, and Marvin Jandro was also able to throw out his chest around his fellow hunters.

Art Teinert, Masonville, hunting with a group of 11 outsiders staying at Teinert's, took the 'pot' when he killed a spike while hunting in the Hamilton Lake country. Horace Weber, Yale, Mich., wasn't far behind in "filling up."

Warren Lindahl, Gladstone, and Moberg, Escanaba, filled their licenses over the weekend while hunting at the Erick Lindahl camp on the Stonington peninsula.

Ivan Hamilton, Greenville, Mich., hunting at the Larry Johnston camp north of Nahma Junction, downed a fair sized spike Sunday.

Henry Lindberg, Masonville, also was one of the early hunters to connect, getting his buck Saturday morning at an early hour.

Kenneth Cannon, Royal Oak, visiting in Gladstone with relatives, went out Saturday and returned with a large racked buck.

Ed Haga of Kipling is also reported as one of the fraternity with 'meat in the cooler'.

Ruark Reviews Tom Lea's Book

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—The first piece I will write with a hand that is beginning to work again is a book review about my friend Tom Lea's second shot at the beautiful letters, a book called "The Wonderful Country."

This is the big effort for Don Tomasco, because he is late come to writing after a life of being a very fine artist. He crept in pretty easy with his first try on the typewriter, the fabulously successful "Brave Bulls," which the movies bought and everybody raved about. I suspect that Tom was feeling pretty smug about how easy you write a good book until he girded up the bourbon and sat down to separate the men from the boys with the second try.

If you are a painter and you write the first one more or less by accident it is one thing, because you are actually painting the book and using words instead of colors as your medium. But when you really give it the large try, when you walk into a work knowing that now you are writing on purpose with a reputation to cherish, then you begin to freeze and start chewing at yourself.

Tough Writing Chore
Mr. Lea, a man I do not hate personally, took on the toughest chore I know. He wrote about the country around El Paso, dating away back to his father's early time, when the senior Tom had come out to the brown harsh hills about the Rio Grande. Never did I meet a man with such a deep-grained love for the country that bore him and nurtured him as this Tom Lea.

To try to put this love and respect into a book, without slopping over and going maudlin is quite a chore. It is as tough as writing a dispassionate piece about your mother. It is as tough as trying to write immoderately about a dog you've owned for many years. It takes guts even to consider the job.

We never accused old Tom Lea's boy of being short on guts. He took on his own wonderful country and wrestled manfully with it for more than two years, and came out with a book that was hard-born but worth the labor. Tom isn't slick yet, thank the Lord, and the book has some mighty defects, but nobody is ever going to call it a "Western." The guy's approach to writing is as honest and uncompromising as the guy's approach to people.

Good Movie Story
In "Wonderful Country" Lea threw away every cliché that would have eased the saddle call of effort, and he roweled himself painfully in a gallop toward restraint. He may have had one eye on the hills he loves when he wrote it, but the other eye definitely was not walling in the direction of Hollywood. And, oddly, what he produced is perfect movie entertainment if John Ford does it—or at least some director who can make a large thing of understatement. Ford once directed a thing called "Stagecoach"—and that, too, could have been called a "Western."

The proprietor of the Brave Bulls is a brave man in another way. Not entirely content with writing lovingly of the country he worships, he tackled another chore that no gun could force me into attempting. Tom tried to take the worship of a hard man for a hard horse and make it stick without applying goo.

He has a love affair between his principal character, Martin Brady, and a horse named Lacrimas, or tears, which does not come out Black Beauty. About the first thing Lagrimas does for Martin Brady is to bust his leg in affright at a tumbling tumbleweed, and I suspect that Lagrimas b' his master more often than not. Yet, the entire tragedy of the book emerges when the unseen villain of the piece, who loves horses, take a pot shot at Martin and, shooting as aimlessly as most Mexicans, manages to kill the horse. And the villain would love horses.

Don Tomasco limps in spots on this "Wonderful Country" book, but he will unlimp in the next one. He has passed his first high hurdle, and the next ought to show all he has learned in the painful process. There is one thing I want on the record, though, Tom illustrates his own books, and I think that he is beginning to slip as an artist. This is only because I am illustrating my next one, myself, and you know how jealous artists can be.

Teletypesetters Spoil Originality In News, Speaker Warns Editors

By CHARLES T. BURNS

BOSTON (AP)—The need for colorful, interpretive writing was stressed at the concluding session of the annual meeting of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

With the advent of television the average reader "can no longer be satisfied with a circumstantial story of what has happened," Norman E. Isaacs of the Louisville Ky. Times, chairman of the APME Committee on Creative Newspapering, declared in a report.

Readers Like Color
"He needs the color, the background and the interpretation," Isaacs said. "The play-by-play account is as dead today in every other form of reporting as it is in sports writing."

The editors also heard a report from John E. Stempel of the Indiana Daily Student, Bloomington, Ind., chairman of the Content Study Committee.

Stempel's group recommended extensive studies of the report in all its phases. Also suggested was an analysis to determine where the news desires of readers are not met, and a comparative study of magazine content in relation to newspapers.

Copy Desk By-passed
At the meeting, the editors were warned by Carl E. Lindstrom of the Hartford (Conn.) Times that the use of teletypesetters by the AP might result in the by-passing of copy desks on newspapers.

The newspaper copy desk, Lindstrom said, "is a vital news operation," adding: "When The Associated Press strings a wire from a bureau point to the composing room, it takes a short cut to the day when the smell of the newsroom is no longer upon your paper."

Lindstrom also expressed concern that teletypesetting to transmit news automatically for instant insertion into line-casting machines might result in "uniformity, stereotyped expression and hence the regimentation of American journalism."
